Men's Time

Wednesday evening was the appointed time at the Congregational church for the men to hold forth. At 6:45 a bountiful supper was served consisting of baked beans, salads and pastry. Leon M. Longly had general charge of the supper and Lee M. Smith of the entertainment. The men having tables were Oliver J. Foss, Philip Hradec, Walter Tubbs, James N. Tubbs, Perry H. Nevers, Leon A. Emory, Frank McAllister, John J. Andrews and Albion L. Buck. The kitchen police consisted of Dr. H. P. Jones and Eugene N. Swett.

Following the supper an Old Folks Concert was given. The procession started with the choir led by Father Kemp, (Ned Burnell) in gorgeous costume, followed by a motley collection of antiquities. The costumes ranged from all ages, colors, styles and description, and paint, powder, whiskers and wigs wrought wonders from the original. The ladies entered with shawls and bonnets while the men wore black, tall hats. The program included a variety of songs by the chorus with solos by Mrs. Gladys Russell, Mrs. Bessie Foss, Mrs. Esther Anderson, Ruth Smith and Mrs. Emma Buck. Elton L. Brown sang several selections with the chorus joining in the chorus.

Those in the chorus were Mrs. A. C. Barber, Mrs. Bessie Foss, Emma Grace Hunt, Mrs. Gladys Russell, Mrs. Edith Rich, Ruth Noble, Mrs. Edith Bartlett, Mrs. Emma Buck, Ruth Smith, Mrs. Chas. Bartlett, Edward H. Brown, Ralph S. Cogswold, Elton L. Brown, Philip F. Stone, Albert J. Stearns, Jesse M. Edwards, Herbert J. Holt, Ralph Andrews and Lee M. Smith.

Mrs. Agnes L. Morton of South Paris was pianist and director, Clarence L. DeCoster, bass fiddler and Edward L. Burwell, conductor.

Mrs. H. L. Bartlett gave two very interesting readings and received hearty applause as did all the solos which were finely rendered, much to the pleasure of the large audience.

The stage names of "Ye Old Folks Concerters" were printed in last week's Advertiser.

Irene and Helen Bartlett of Andover recently visited Mrs. Elizabeth Manning. Funeral services were held Saturday forenoon at 9 o'clock for Edward J. Labossiere, at St. Catherine's Catholic church. Rev. Fr. J. E. Redden conducted the services. The bearers were four of his most intimate friends and shopmates. Interment was at Norway Pine Grove cemetery. There was an abundance of beautiful flowers. Mr. Labossiere was a man who was popular with his fellow workmen where he was employed at the Carroll-Jellison shoe factory. Generous hearted, he was always one of the first, ready to assist a fellow-workman in sickness or distress, and at this time his sufficient to pay all funeral expenses and purchase a lot at the cemetery. Realizing the extremity in which the family was left with the mainstay removed, they gladly performed this last act with willing hearts and hands. There are five children, one son who lives with his grandparents, and the others living at home and attending school.

Louise Thomas is working at the telephone office.

Friday evening, Feb. 3, Bliss college played Norway High a game of basketball. Norway won with a score of 48 to 24. The first half was closely contested but Norway won steadily in the second. Palmer and Nevers did excellent work in shooting baskets from the floor in the last half. The game was played in 20-minute periods. Before the "big game" the Freshmen and Aggies played a short contest in which the Aggies won. Mona Martyn spent the week end at her home in Bethel.

The regular meeting of Lake Temple Pythian Sisters was held Tuesday evening, but on account of sickness, the rehearsal of officers and degree staff was postponed until the next regular meeting, Tuesday evening, Feb. 21st. Following the meeting a valentine social and buffet lunch was served in charge of Mrs. Harriet Brown.

A valentine contest was won by Gertrude Matfor and Alta Hall. The lucky heart was won by Margaret Dyer. Each one received a prize. Geneva Partridge will have charge of the entertainment for the next regular meeting.

Phineas Nicholas: "Sure, I'm in favor of the Union Schools and Union Schoolhouses. Both should be built, such a magnificent scale as to accommodate all future educational requirements of the two towns. Really, I can't see why Oxford shouldn't come in and share the good thing. Also a portion of Otisfield. Run tramway cars with hot lunches for the benefit of the rising generation in going and coming. Them's my ideas and what I'm in for. I favor it. So do all progressive, live-minded, red-blooded, up-to-date citizens. I've made a canvass and know. Never mind the expenses. That will take care of itself."

Carrie Mathews of Portland visited at A. J. Stearns' this week.

Mrs. Mary Hodgdon

Mrs. Mary Hodgdon passed away Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Frost, Pike Hill, following a short illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Hodgdon was a life-long resident of Norway, always living on Pike's Hill where she was born Nov. 10, 1847, the daughter of Charles and Mary Stiles Parsons. Her ancestors were among the very early settlers in Norway, her great-grandfather came to America from England by way of the Barbadoes about the year 1655.

He married Sarah Vinson, whom he first saw while stopping to quench his thirst at a spring near her father's, called Vinson's Spring. Her grandfather, John Parsons, came to Norway, then known as Rustfield, in June, 1780, with his brother, Deacon William Parsons, and they were the first two who felled trees in the township, with a view to making men homes. Other brothers followed a few years later and all married and had large families, all settled in Norway.

Mrs. Hodgdon was the last of her family. She married Henry Hodgdon of Norway and they settled on the homestead farm on Pike's Hill where she was born which they carried on successfully. Elton Macey and family lived with them for a time at Norway Opera House, Saturday evening, Norway.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys Norway residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Norway man's statement.

George F. McAlister, ret. farmer, 1 Brown St., says: "I was in awful bad shape with my kidneys some years ago. I couldn't lay in bed with any comfort owing to the steady pain across my back. I was hoing at the time and I can tell you I was handicapped not being able to get about to do my work. My kidneys did not act regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. I picked up a paper and the Doan's Kidney Pills testimony given led me to go to Noyes' Drug Store and get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. After using them I was all right, and went back to work feeling as well as ever. I am only too pleased to tell of the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them always."

Grange Meeting

The regular meeting of the Grange was held on Friday evening, all officers present, W. M., E. W. Pike in the chair. After a short business session the Grange was closed and the evening given over to the educational meeting, the hall being well filled. The Supt. of schools, Chas. Clement, gave an outline of the work being done and amount of money it will require to run the schools this year. The exercises were fine the out standing feature was the health crusade that is being carried out in the schools. There were also recitations, spelling, music and drills. One side of the hall was covered with pencil work finely done.

One of the out-standing features of the evening was the presenting of a most beautiful Past Master's Jewell in Blue and Gold with name and number of Grange on front and name and number of years of service on back to Past Master F. M. Sanborn. Sister Rita Spencer in her beautifully written presentation addressed an emblem of the fraternal feeling of the Grange, but a memento of his labors as the Supt. of the Sunday School for many years. He was decorated at the altar by W. M. Pike. Bro. Sanborn was taken by surprise but thanked them feelingly for this proof of their affection and friendship.

They started the mill on the Henry Warren lot Friday and sufficient boards to cover it and will begin first of the week in good shape. They have 300,00 feet already out and are hauling from the side of Pleasant Mountain.

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Calif. — "I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed,' for you were a 'friend indeed.'"

Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound be a "friend indeed" to you.

MEN who make their mark in the world are 'good traders.' They know how to make their dollars go farthest. Now, ask yourself if you are a good trader. Do you part with your dollars too easily? Do you trade them for things of permanent value? And, above all are you accumulating dollars so you can trade? Think! How can you hope to be a real financial success unless you make yourself a good trader? The answer is in a bank account with constant additions to it.

HARRIS-PARROTT

The following announcement was made in a Florida paper recently:

"Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Parrott of Oxford, Maine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Isabelle Parrott, to Mr. Albert Owens Harris of Ocala, Fla., who was to take place Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 4 P. M., in the Grace Episcopal Church, Fla.

"Miss Parrott has been in Ocala, a guest of Mr. Harris' parents. She has already won the love and friendship of the people of Ocala. She is a pretty girl of the brunette type, is a most cultured young woman, and was educated in a private school and is a graduate of Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass., possessing many accomplishments and will add greatly to Ocala's social life.

"Miss Parrott is a niece of the late J. R. Parrott of Jacksonville, who was for a long time the president of the Florida East Coast railway.

"Mr. Harris is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harris, who are among the most prominent citizens of Ocala, and are well known throughout the state. Mr. Harris is a general insurance business and has made a splendid success.

"The day chosen for the ceremony was the wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents and another unique idea carried out was the giving of the bride in marriage by the same man who gave in marriage the bridegroom's mother.

"The bride couple left in their car soon after the wedding for a trip and on their return they will make their home in this city where a hearty welcome awaits them."

Life In Oxford Village 100 Years Ago

An old account book kept by Daniel Bartlett, who was running a store in Oxford Village 100 years ago is rather interesting. One is struck by the small amount of the charges. It seems as if everybody bought goods and got trusted, and the charges run all the way from four cents to two or three dollars; most of them being less than one dollar. The reason for this was the scarcity of money, and people brought produce from their farms and got credit for them at the store, and when they bought anything, they had charged to their accounts.

The most frequent item charged on every page was New England Rum. The cost of a single drink was four cents, and a gallon could be bought for fifty-eight cents. Just think of it, enough rum could be bought for fifty-eight cents to get drunk on three or four times! As Len Brickett used to say, "It was a good run, too!" It is related that one old fellow who lived in town used to buy two gallons at once, take it upstairs when he got home, and stay there a week or two, until the rum was all used up. When people called to see him, his wife always answered, "He has gone to North Yarmouth."

About the first of February, 100 years ago, there is a charge of twenty-six cents for a pint of brandy, probably bought to set out to the minister when he called. In those days the minister always expected to be treated to brandy, and the rest of the people drank just plain everyday rum. One charge for gin is noted, which cost twenty-four cents a pint.

On the credit side of the book is found the following prices of farm products: Corn, 67 cents per bushel; rye, 67 cents; wheat, 80 cents; hay, $10 a ton; pork, 10 cents; and $1 per cord. A horse and wagon from Oxford to Otisfield set a man back 25 cents. Occasionally someone bought a pound of brown sugar, which cost 16 to 18 cents and very rarely some rich man bought two pounds at once.

November 24, 1822, Simon Staples brought in 9 pounds of chickens on account and got the magnificent price of 4 1/2 cents a pound. Isaac Abbott got credit for 1/4 bushel of oats, 20 cents. 52 1/2 pounds of geese were credited $2 to one customer and 40 1/2 pounds of turkeys brought 4 1/2 cents a pound. A barrel of cider would have brought $3.

March 18, 1822, Hannah Carey bought 11 1/2 yards of bed ticking at the cost of $5.19. Undoubtedly she was going to get married.

These prices are a great deal different than the prices of the present day, but no doubt the people lived and enjoyed life just as much as the people of to-day do with their high prices.

Observed Eightieth Birthday

Mrs. Augusta Holden observed her eightieth birthday Sunday, Feb. 5 at her home on King street, where she has lived for more than 40 years. There were four generations of the family present and other relatives and friends called during the day to wish Mrs. Holden many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Holden is a direct descendant of Miles Standish. She was born in Rumford, her parents being Emmons and Caroline (Calkwell) Nelson.

When she was yet a baby her family moved to Massachusetts where they lived until she was 14 years of age, when they returned to Maine and settled in that part of Otisfield known as Rayville. Here Mrs. Holden spent her girlhood. Before her father's death the family removed to Pigeon Hill, Oxford, on the farm now occupied by Richard Tyner. She married James L. Holden of Rayville at the Methodist parsonage in Oxford, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Hobart, March 18, 1862.

They established their home in Rayville, where their eldest child Florence M. Holden, (now Mrs. Brockway of Lowell, Mass.) was born. They subsequently moved to Oxford more than 50 years ago, and here their son, Walter E. Holden was born. Mr. Holden was for many years a manufacturer of baskets. Previous to this he made shoe handles for Charles and Rawson and was in the trucking business for a time. One day he was in the store of Thomas Baker and seeing a market basket there, stood examining it when Mr. Baker said, "You can't make a basket like that, Jim." This set Mr. Holden to thinking that he would like to make a try. D. B. Wood was at the time occupying the old brick school house as a furniture repair shop, and in one end of this building Mr. Holden began what developed into a lucrative business.

Mr. Holden died March 5, 1916, since which time Mrs. Holden has continued the manufacture of baskets, their son, W. E. Holden, managing the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden observed their golden wedding March 18, 1912 when one hundred guests were present and a wonderfully pleasant occasion it was.

Mrs. Holden has been a homemaker. Four generations lived in their spacious home for several years, until a few months ago when the grandson, Otho B. Holden and family established a home on High street. She is still very active about her household tasks and in looks and appearance seems hardly more than 60 years of age.

ance seems hardly more than 60 years of age.

Mrs. Florence Brockway of Lowell, Mass., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Augusta Holden.

Cyrus Q. Wardwell of Mechanic Falls was a visitor in town on Saturday and attended the meeting of the W. R. C.

The friends and neighbors of George H. Jones gave him a surprise party on Thursday evening, it being his birthday. Over 40 were present and enjoyed a social time together. Mr. Jones was presented with a gold pencil as a token of esteem by the friends present to which he responded feelingly. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Dr. H. R. Farris is at the hospital in Lewiston for treatment of the eye. A doctor from the sanatorium on the hill has charge of his patient.

Mrs. G. W. Tyner, Roscoe Everett Staples, and Roland, the young son of A. Grover are sick. Hollis Dunn who has been a shut-in the past two weeks is out again.

Among those who were in Lewiston, Friday were: Mrs. Emma Holden, Mrs. Florence Brockway, Mrs. Mary Lord, Mrs. Emma Delano, Mrs. F. A. Smith, Hazel Marshall, Mrs. J. V. Hunting, Mrs. Henry Samuel Ellsworth.

Inez and Maystella Farris were at home from Gould's Academy for the week-end. They accompanied their mother to Lewiston, Saturday, to visit Dr. H. R. Farris. His condition is more favorable.

HILL'S C. B. Q. Tablets are best by test. Try this simple experiment:
1. Drop a C. B. Q. Tablet in a glass of clear water.
2. Instantly the tablet begins disintegrating and "breaking up."
3. In 10 seconds the medical properties are thoroughly mixed with water.

Thus, Hill's C. B. Q. Tablets act immediately, give relief without delay and begin checking Colds and La Grippe long before ordinary tablets, by actual test, are absorbed by the stomach juices. To prove this, subject other than C. B. Q. Tablets to the test and observe that in most instances an hour or more is required for complete disintegration.

WOMAN SUFFERED IN SILENCE

A former resident of New Auburn, Maine, wrote: "There must be lots of women who feel as I did. I suffered in silence on account of my pride, but now I know that a good laxative is essential to good health. I neglected my health, pretending I was all right when I wasn't. I had terrible pains, was 'grouchy' and my headaches almost killed me with pain, and worst of all I had a hollow, unbecoming complexion which was not helped by face powders. Why didn't I try to cure myself rather than pretend? After taking Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative, I now know that a laxative was what I needed. My complexion cleared up, blemishes vanished and everyone remarked how much better I looked."

Dr. True's Elixir used for over 70 years. 40c, 60c, $1.20.

FISH STORY COMMENTS

My Dear Mr. Sanborn: Your very interesting little record book of the fishing at Upper Dam, Me. received. I have enjoyed looking it over very much, as I know all who have fished there well. Taking it "all in all" I doubt if there is another place in the world that yearly can show the number of fish pounds, trout and salmon, that this famous pool does.

One thing that is brought to ones attention very forcibly is the decrease in the weight of the fish taken. This applies particularly to the larger trout. They are fast disappearing, thanks to the trollers with phantom minnows, spinners, gang hooks, etc. I haven't anything against the troller, only his methods.

When I first visited the Dam in 1898, trolling was allowed with a single fly hook with worm for bait and a few large trout were killed each season but not enough to cut deeply into the family. But after the commissioners legitimized the spinner, phantom minnow, etc., it was no trick at all for one bait to bring its limit of big fish each day. Many more were killed but only the big ones were brought in.

It is a great shame that the state of Maine does not do all it can to preserve the handsome fish. The Rangeleys are its natural habitat and there it should be kept and protected. All spawn hatched from these fish should be returned to these lakes, or at least two thirds of it, and the balance of it should not be sent out of the state, as is now a common practice, that is when the commissioners wish to create a rival in their big trout monopoly.

These fish are the biggest advertisement the state of Maine possesses and have been the cause of hundreds of sportsmen and their families, turning their faces in that direction. They have also been the kernel in many printed stories about the state and its attractions, that would never have been right if it had not been the unheard of size of these fish.

I hope you will pardon me for so freely speaking my mind, but I can't help saying a word in behalf of these noble fish whenever the subject presents itself. Please send your little message (book) to the commissioners and ask them to listen to its appeal in behalf of the Rangeley trout. It is the last call. They surely will do something to save them.

TAXATION AND HIGH COST-OF-LIVING

Andrew Jackson Peters retires as mayor of the city of Boston with a big record of accomplishments. When he took over the city government in 1918, there was a deficit of over $800,000. He leaves a surplus of over $2,000,000. The standing debt has been reduced nearly $5,000,000. The tax rate the past year was only $24.70. These facts speak volumes for what can be done for one's city or town by men of ability, animated by the purpose to serve the people in bringing back normal conditions. The man or men who will be honored in the future will not be the tricky wire puller that has acquired a reputation for smartness, but who accomplished something for the people's benefit. The schemers who are adept in getting measures through the Legislature or at town meeting, which only benefit a few at the expense of many, will be regarded with suspicion and distrust. Political ties will be very much less strong in the future than they have been in the past and the people will turn to the man or men, not because they may be good mixers, but because they are good doers for the real benefit of the masses.

We have men in Norway as capable or would be so with experience, as Mayor Peters. The opportunity is open to them for a brilliant future of public usefulness but not on the old lines.—Comment.

In commenting on the bad slump in the profits last year of the Sears-Robuck Company, a Boston Daily says, "It is a symptom of the national situation! The country needs to realize that the conditions created by the war are gone and that it is up to all of us to work harder and produce more. This sounds too much like getting fatter for further skinning."

A coal consumers' association has been formed in New York City. It will probably accomplish little except collective kicking.

Twenty per cent in wages in the Lewiston cotton mills. It effects 12,000 operatives. There was also the same cut in other cotton mills in New England. In Manchester, N. H., besides the cut in wages, the working weekly hours were increased from 48 to 54. More than 17,000 operatives are affected.—News Item.

Secretary Mellon says if the bonus measure goes through letter postage should be increased to 3 cents, also an increase on 2nd class postage, increased taxes on cigarettes and tobacco, two cents on bank checks and fifty cents a horse power on automobiles.

A local newspaper is a great educator. The successful manager of an established local paper is one of the principal citizens of the community in which he lives. He has an interest in the welfare of the people and in all its business concerns. No man can possibly so appreciate the varied needs of all as he. What would hurt one interest must hurt him. The interest then of all is his interest. Who then is better fitted to advise and suggest? Suppose he doesn't do this what then? Nevertheless his newspaper is an educator. Everything of the moment taking place is reported. In this way we know what all are doing and if we study what the paper contains we might know what should or should not be done. People are too apt to look over the news items hurriedly and throw the paper aside. Scholars in school would make a poor showing if they didn't study. Study from your local paper even the advertisements. It will pay in many ways.

Every time we read in the newspapers that the bottom has been reached, and that business will begin the rebound, but the rebound doesn't come. Wages, transportation rates, prices of building materials and many other things too numerous to mention, are still away up beyond normal conditions. They must come down before business generally will begin to boom. Nothing is surer than this.

From Bangor comes the intelligence that there has been a big slump in the winter's lumbering. Wages have dropped in two years from $3 and $3.50 to $1 and $1.25 a day. Formerly in war time there were more jobs than men. This winter there have been three men to one job.—News Item.

On read such items as these one is led to inquire how much cheaper lumber can be bought. It would appear that the wires are all down in every direction.

Lice Powder

A Dependable Remedy For Body Lice On Horses, Cattle,
Sheep, Swine, and Poultry

This is a concentrated powder of efficient drugs for the treatment of body lice, without the addition of powdered earth, or other inert material to make bulk.

Those who have used it say: "My cows were covered with big grey-back lice. I bought a box of your lice powder and it killed the lice."

Another says: "I bought a box of your lice powder and it worked so well that my neighbor wants a box."

From another: "I had twelve head of cattle that became so infested with lice that they were biting and digging all the time. One application of your lice powder stopped the digging and biting, and after three applications, I didn't find any more lice."

Don't let your animals or poultry suffer from the torments that lice produce, when a small outlay will rid you of the annoyance.

NORWAY AND VICINITYGolden Wedding

On January 23, in Southern Pines, N. C., occurred the celebration of the Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Piney Allen at the home of their daughter, Mrs. James Sweet.

The bride and groom of fifty years are not keeping house so their friends put time and thought and originality into their presents which made them more valuable. "Fifty golden pinnies," (as the children called it) in the shape of a fifty cent gold piece was the gift of the four little grandchildren, Mary Lois, Susan and James Sweet, Jr. Another unique present was a 6x9 inch handmade post card, the letters and figures were white on a black background. The dates 1872-1922. The ring which the groom was presenting to the bride, and the wide border were of gold.

Another interesting present from forty friends was a very ordinary little booklet with the usual congratulations on the cover, but when opened, there attached as by magic, was fifty dollars in gold. A very sweet and simple present came from the sender that they would bloom in time for the Golden Anniversary. The bulbs seemed to understand what was expected of them, for there, beside a vase of beautiful pink roses, the daisies, in all their white beauty, forty-one Narcissus blooms on three stems! Besides the many, many presents received a great number of telegrams, letters and cards.

The house was beautifully decorated with ivy, smilax, holly and mistletoe. From the soft lights over the table were hung orange ribbon streamers. In the center of the table was a mound of ivy twined about with gold ribbon on the top of the mound was set the huge, beautifully decorated "bride cake" with the dates 1872-1922 written in gold icing. The knife with which the fifty-year-bride cut the cake was decorated with a bow of gold satin ribbon. Refreshments of cake, sandwiches, and fruit punch were served. Happiness and sweet content looked from the eyes of the fifty-year-bride as she sat gowned in soft grey, and reminiscently talked of that other day when she in soft white long trailing gown, with orange blossoms and veil was led to the altar of the Universalist Church in Norway, Maine. Then suddenly she told of the tenderness, the kindness and thoughtfulness of her daughter and son "Becky" and Jim.

Among the many guests present was the bride's sister, Mrs. F. A. Danforth, of Norway, Maine, who was one of the original wedding party and her other daughter, Mrs. W. W. Pray of Bluepoint, Long Island.

Those maintaining 100 per cent. for two weeks are Carl Foster, Lucienne Frechette, Elizabeth Jackson and Donald Richardson. Lucienne Frechette holds the record for the month having missed only one word.

WINTER PLANNING MEETINGS

A series of winter planning meetings has just been completed by County Agent Lovejoy in the seventeen organized Farm Bureau communities of the county. The purpose of these meetings was to arrange for definite work to be carried out in the six major projects in the 1922 program of work.

The attendances at the meetings ran from fifteen to sixty and the aggregate attendance amounted to nearly five hundred. Mr. Lovejoy has, therefore, reached hundreds of farmers directly through these group meetings.

A total of 723 pieces of work has been laid out at the meetings. Among the work are included 110 farm accounts, 20 boys' and girls' clubs, 70 improved out seed demonstrations, 51 fine demonstrations, 61 potato seed plots, 12 Hubam sweet clover plots, 125 silage corn demonstrations, 90 members of cow test associations or circles, 4 silo building demonstrations, 105 orchard fertilizer demonstrations, 17 poultry culling demonstrations, and several miscellaneous demonstrations such as orchard pruning, spraying and dusting.

Following Paris comes the other communities, in order of the amount of work planned, as follows: Bethel 71; Buckfield, 68; Canton 54; Waterford 50; Brownfield 47; Norway 43; Woodstock 42; Hebron 40; Randolph 39; Summer 30; Roxbury 29; Dixfield 27; Oxford 26; Lovell 24; Fryeburg 19; Denmark 15.

The county agent is now busy with committee meetings, which are being held for the purpose of organizing the system of carrying out the tremendous amount of work planned in the various communities. Account group meetings are also being held this month.

A meeting of the county executive committee will also be held in the Farm Bureau office February 21. The many problems connected with carrying out the county program will be discussed at this meeting. The members of the committee are W. H. Conant, president; E. C. Buzzell, vice-president; A. G. Hayes, secretary; W. A. Morse, accounts; A. Van Den Kerckhove, clubs; C. F. Tripp, crops; L. E. McIntire, dairy; T. E. Chase, orchard.

Some folks spend these long winter evenings playing checkers or talking politics; other catch up on their reading and know the latest wrinkle in farm practices when spring comes.

WOULDN'T YOU?

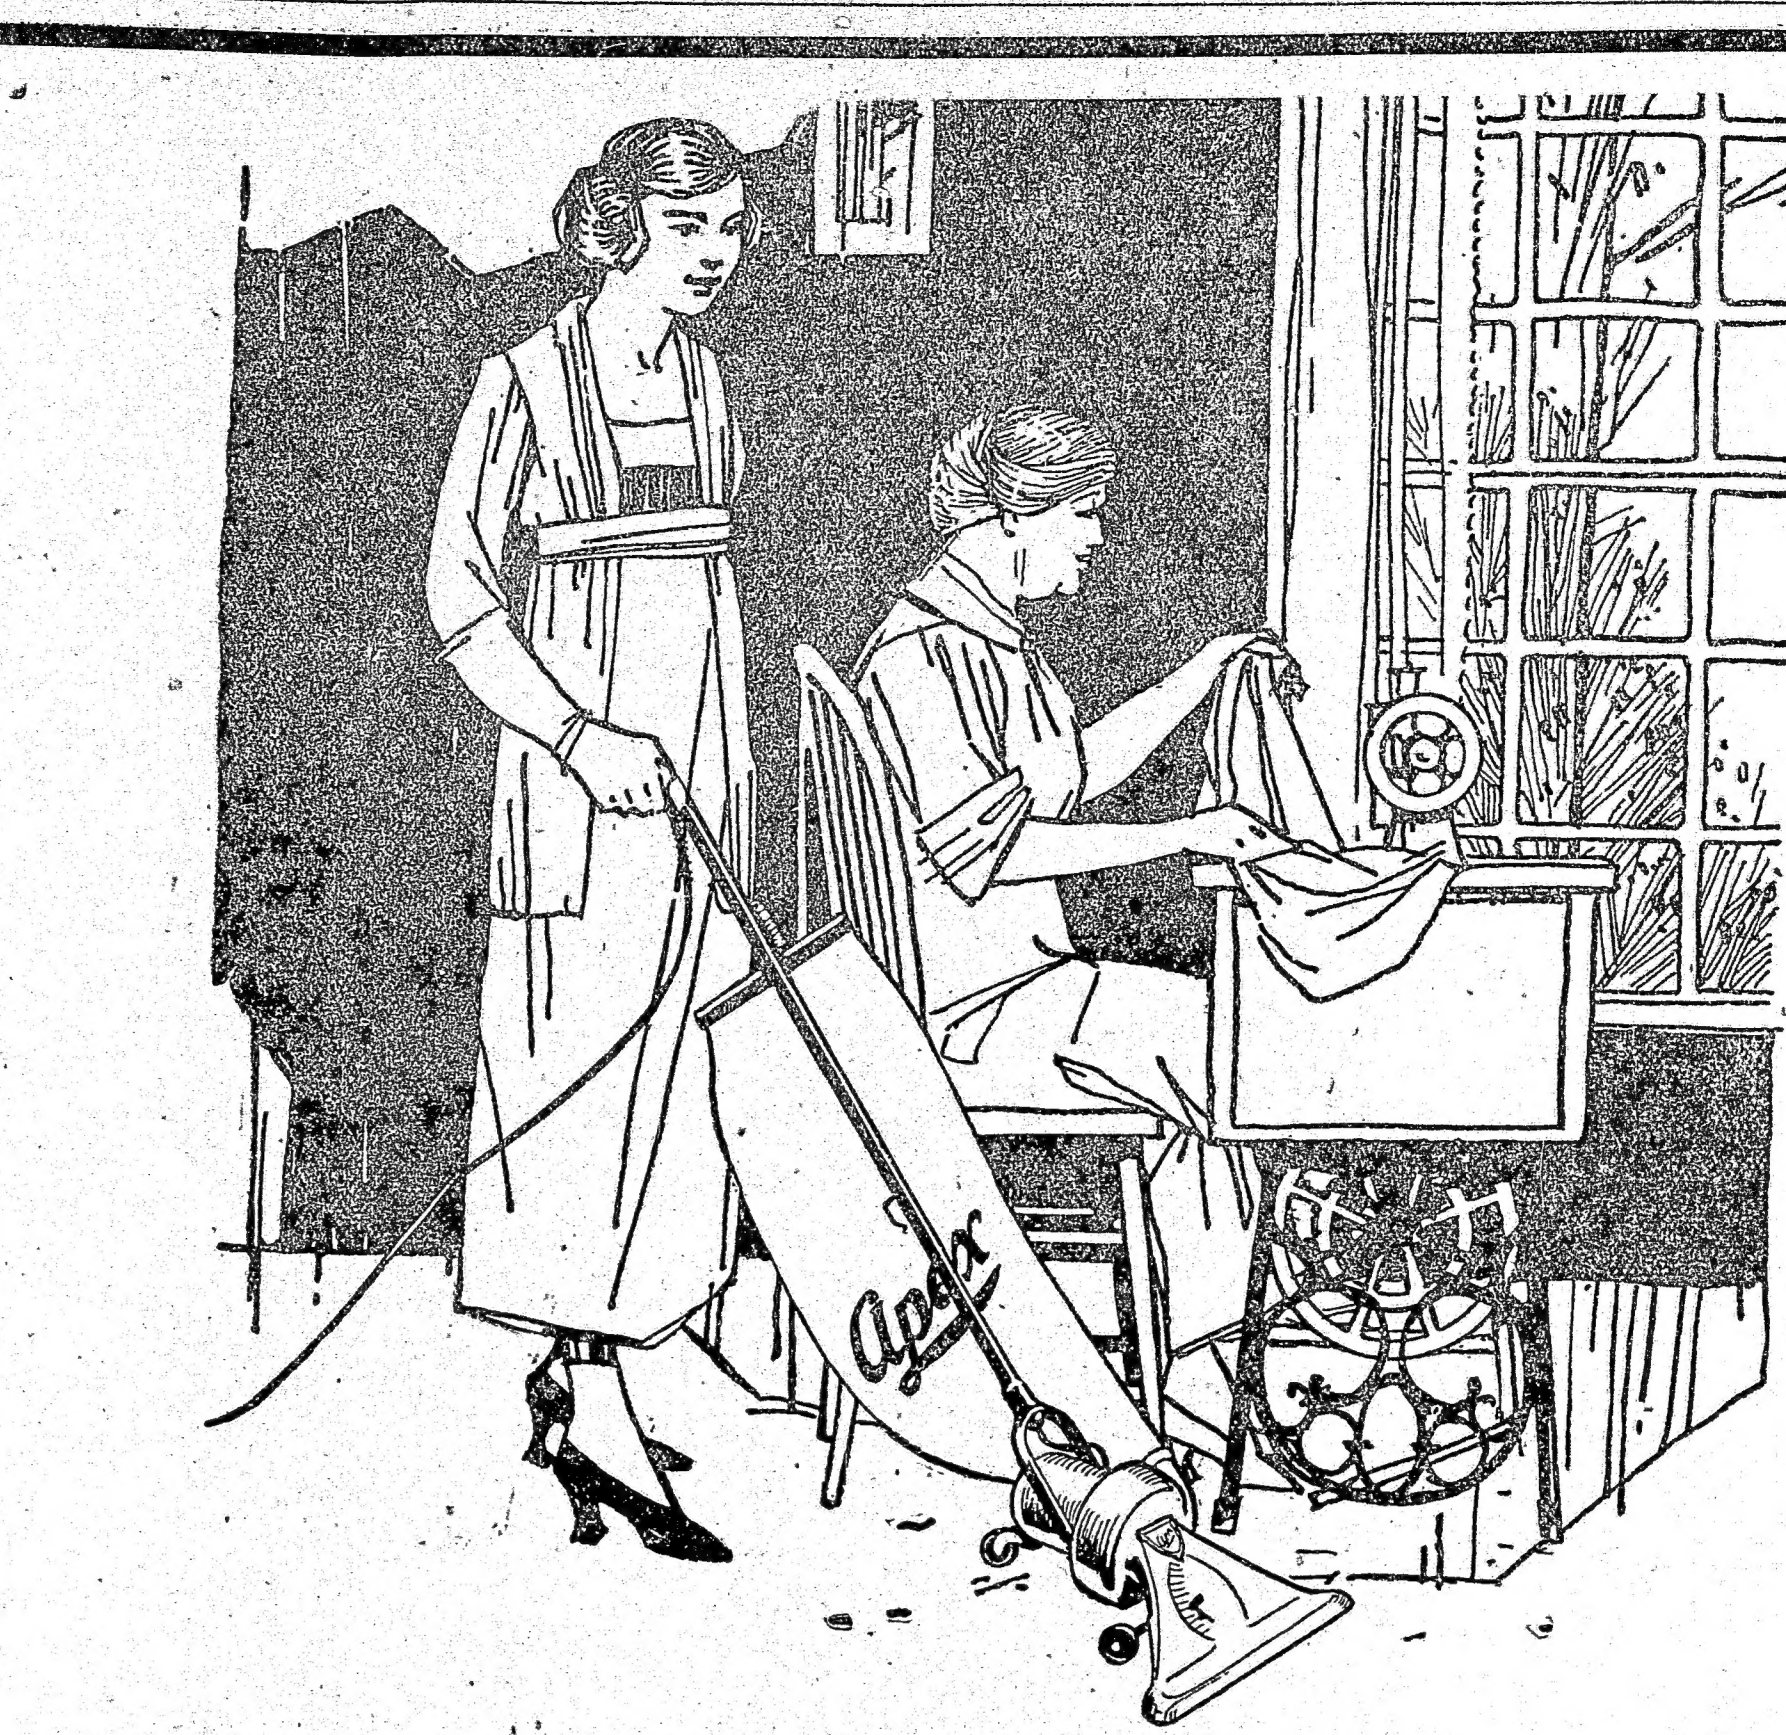

If I should sit up late at night
Beneath the candle's gleam,
If I should work with all my might
A-doping out a scheme,
A plan to make my business grow,
A thought so crisp and new
I wanted all the town to know,
I'd print it—wouldn't you?
And if I wanted folks to read
My pamphlet, card or book,
I'd expect them to head
And give a second look,
I wouldn't let the matter rest
With "something-tha-will-do"
In other words I'd want the BEST
IN PRINTING—wouldn't you?

Demi-Gods of Old Rome.
Castor and Pollux, also called the Dioscuri, were heroes or demi-gods of early Grecian mythology. They were brothers and said to be the sons of Zeus, who in Grecian mythology corresponds to Jupiter in the mythology of Rome. Castor was famous for his skill in taming and managing horses, and Pollux for his skill in boxing. Although they were buried, says the Grecian poet Homer, yet they came to life every other day and enjoyed divine honors. The worship of Castor and Pollux was introduced at Rome at an early time. They were held to have aided the Romans in battle with the Latins, or natives of Italy, and a temple was erected to them in the forum. After these two mythical heroes was the ship named in which St. Paul completed his memorable voyage to Italy, in order that he might appeal to Caesar for justice and protection.

Eskimo Inherently Honest.
The Eskimo regards honesty as paramount. He will never misrepresent facts, and although he may want to dispose of an article badly he will rather deprecate it than run the risk of over praising. A man who lies or deceives another is severely punished. An Eskimo will not permit a fellow man to need for food or clothing, once he has enough for himself and his family. War, to the parka hooded men of the North, is unknown. They decide differences by staging dance duels and outwitting each other, and old men act as judges to decide winners. In this way honor is satisfied. Brutality is unknown. In combating nature, fighting the walrus, the whale and the bear with primitive weapons, the Eskimo displays unusual coolness and plans his way out of danger with extreme self-possession.

Birds That Burrow.
Persons are not accustomed to think of birds as burrowing animals, but the puffin answers to that description. It is a chunky little fowl, less than a foot high, with a large and powerful beak. For a home it scratches a hole in the ground sometimes as much as four feet deep. To capture a puffin one must go digging. It is rather a job; and, inasmuch as the bird bites and claws fiercely, one is likely to suffer in the process. Thus the creature has maintained its numbers on many a lonely rocky, where other species of wild fowl have been killed off and exterminated.

Spiders as Companions.
Of all creatures to choose as pets spiders seem to be the strangest. Yet many famous men have formed real friendships with spiders. Beethoven, when studying the violin at the age of seven years, had a spider so accustomed to him that it would crawl on to his arm while he was practicing. Of Paganini it is said that whenever he played a certain air on his violin a spider approached him and stood still listening until he had finished. Gaetly, author of "Richard Coeur de Lion," tells of spiders that used to perch motionless upon the piano while he played.

South Paris

Paris Boy on a Pacific Ranch

Alton M. Porter is a South Paris boy who has gone to the Pacific Coast and made good. He is the son of Hiram N. Porter, a graduate of the Paris High School and of the Michigan Agricultural College. At the present time he is superintendent of the Hunters Ranch in Hunters, Washington, near the Columbia River.

They do things a little different on the Pacific Coast than in Oxford County, State of Maine, from which he came. To begin with there are 822 acres in this ranch and it is almost all under cultivation. There are 136 acres in alfalfa, 150 acres in grain, 200 acres in alfalfa and 200 in other kinds of hay, leaving 146 unimproved. Some farm that! Then, again, it is 33 miles away from anywhere, which perhaps is not anything strange in the newly settled state of Washington, that is, it is 33 miles away from the nearest railroad, for up in a range of mountains. One has to go over almost impassable roads to get there. To get to the railroad one has to go through a mountain pass 5000 feet in the air.

This ranch is the property of the Hunters Land Company, a combination of Spokane capitalists. The ranch has not been in existence many years. To understand about how many, it may be said that the first real crop of apples was harvested this year. It was a considerable crop, too, 80,000 boxes.

As may be imagined, it was quite an undertaking to move this crop over the roads as they then existed. Several trucking concerns were approached to do the job, but most of them shied from the undertaking. At last Emil Nelson, manager of the Nelson Motor Company, Spokane, concluded to take it.

It was not only a job of transportation but engineering as well, for the first thing was to make the roads passable. It was a good deal like a logging job in the big Maine woods, where one has to swamp the road first. The road had to be leveled, holes filled up and culverts repaired. As it was out of the regular line of travel a special repair shop and service station had to be installed for the assistance of the trucks.

When the road was in readiness the company advertised for trucks which they needed in addition to their own. The call was responded to from the country round.

On September 23rd last, the caravan started on the job, consisting of twenty-three trucks, their bodies canvas-covered, till they might have been taken for old-fashioned prairie schooners, only there were no horses.

It would be interesting to trace the haps and mishaps of this caravan, for there were haps and mishaps. For the trucks took were about two hundred boxes each, and the quickest round trip was made in eight hours and thirty minutes.

Outside of wages the expense of running these trucks amounted to $1,500 weekly. It cost about $800 weekly for oil and gas.

To make a long story short, it took thirty-one working days to move this crop of eighty carloads of apples to the railroad.

In closing, it may be of interest to state that these trucks left the road in better shape than they found it, for the loose ground piled on the surface was packed water-tight.—Democrat.

Paris leads all the towns in number of pieces of work reported at the Farm Bureau meetings. Paris has 11 farm accounts, 2 clubs; 17 oat, 3 lime and 17 silage corn demonstrations; 12 potato seed plots; 3 members on the waiting list for the cow testing association, 12 farmers indicating interest in farming dusting rings; 14 orchard fertilizer demonstrations lined up; making a total of 93 pieces of work. Bethel stands a close second to Paris. A meeting in the interest of Home Demonstration will be held at Paris Grange Hall on Saturday Feb. 25.

Foundation renews—leave drafts. On Saturday Feb. 11 at 1:30 P. M. there will be a meeting for committees and accounts. Recommendations by the tester of the Central Oxford Dairy Testing association enabled, W. F. Nottage, Paris, to save 81 cents a day on feeding alone.

DR. A. O. THOMAS REPORT

To the Superintendent of Schools and the Superintending School Committee, South Paris, Maine.

Gentlemen: Pursuant to our understanding at the time of my visit to your town, October 6, I am pleased to give you the results of my observations and some recommendations in regard to housing your schools. Please know that in making this report I disregard entirely the personal element and am setting up a program which in my judgment is best calculated to serve the educational interests of your town to the best advantage. With this I have coupled financial expediency.

At present your buildings are entirely inadequate and unsatisfactory. It is quite imperative that you take some action in the immediate future to relieve the situation. The recommendations herein contained will at least give opportunity for discussion and action and may point
 the way to a satisfactory solution of your housing problem.

It has been suggested that a small amount of money expended on an addition to your present high school building might take care of the necessities for the immediate future. In my judgment the cost of such addition would actually go far into the cost of a new building. It is not eventually be a wasteful procedure and at the same time prove unsatisfactory as a means of providing a modern school plant. I am, therefore, eliminating this plan from my recommendation as unsatisfactory from a professional standpoint and of no material financial assistance ultimately.

As a means of setting up a background
 for the recommendations I am giving some data in regard to the schools of both South Paris and Norway. These communities virtually constitute twin cities and are so nearly equal in valuation, number of school children and financial support that they are admirably situated
 for a cooperative relationship.

General Deductions

You will note in the preceding figures that the schools census of Paris has increased 186, Norway 26.

The enrollment in the elementary schools of Paris has decreased from 604
 to 528, while the enrollment in the high school has increased from 99 to 219. Norway has increased in elementary school enrollment from 407 to 466 and the high school from 188 to 163 or 27.3 per cent.

It is probable that the great increase in the high school of Paris and the loss in the elementary school comes from the change in arrangement of grades.

You will note that the number of teachers in Paris five years ago was 33 while it is 32 today. Norway had 26 teachers five years ago and 27 today.

The wages of elementary teachers in Paris advanced from $343 to $674 or approximately 96.5 per cent. The wages of the high school teachers in Paris have advanced from $575 to $884, or 50 per cent.

The elementary teachers in Norway have advanced in wages from $347 to $674 or approximately 96.5 per cent. The high school teachers in Norway have advanced in wages from $501 to $730, making a fraction over 80 per cent. The average rural and elementary teachers
 for 1921 is $727; high school teachers, $1310.

One of the most significant features
 in the increase in financial support, Paris having leaped from $20,864 in 1917 to $36,136 in 1921, making an increase of 106 per cent. Norway has gone from $16,446 in 1917 to $36,136 in 1921 making an increase of 119 per cent. This in-itself shows the spirit and interest of the people in these localities in the case of education. The municipal tax rate in Paris in 1917 was .0228, while in 1921
 it is .053. In the support of common schools in 1917 the rate was .0036 while in 1921 it is .0094. The rate in Norway in 1917 was .021 and in 1921 it is .046.
 For the support of the common schools
 in 1917 the rate was .0013 and in 1921 it is .0062. The assessed valuation of these towns for 1920 is:
 Norway $1,831,340; Paris, $1,882,706.
 Paris has the West Paris situation where some 50 or 60 high school pupils are taken care of. This West Paris situation places South Paris in Norway on approximately a 50-50 basis.

Plan A

A consolidated school to accommodate the three grades forming what is technically known as senior high school. At present there are 122 pupils in the South Paris school in these grades and 130 in Norway, making a school of approximately 250, there would need be a provision for expansion or growth to 350 at least.
 Such an arrangement would leave the present school building for a Junior High School, taking out of the brick grammar school the upper grades whose places may be taken by the pupils from the Shurtleff which should be abandoned. This plan would necessitate the use of the grammar school for some time with such alterations as may be necessary. When the town is in a financial position to do so, a building which will accommodate the elementary school of six grades would complete the housing facilities for the village of South Paris.

Such a building as would be needed
 in this plan will accommodate 250 to 350
 and will cost $160,000 to $170,000 with some possible recessions in prices.

Plan B

A consolidated school which would accommodate a four year high school of 350. The minimum of this building would constitute the maximum of the one in Plan A. The expansion for the future to be taken care of by the construction of such elementary grade buildings as may be necessary and the use of the present high school building for Junior High School. Such a plan would take care of the situation for a number of years to come. This would not permit

a Junior-Senior organization for the present and would be the more expensive plan eventually. This plan would need to have an immediate capacity of 350 with some chance of expansion possibly to 400. Such a building would approximate a cost of $170,000 to $185,000.

Plan C

An independent Senior School in the town of Paris to accommodate the three upper grades. Such a building would need to accommodate 125 to 175 pupils.
 A building of the proper capacity will cost from $90,000 to $100,000. The effect upon the lower grades will be the same as in the case of Plan A.

Plan D

An independent Senior School in the
 town of Paris to accommodate the three upper grades. Such a building would
 need to accommodate 125 to 175 pupils.
 A building of the proper capacity will
 cost from $90,000 to $100,000. The effect upon the lower grades will be the
 same as in the case of Plan A.

The Old Form of Organization

Formerly the school system was divided into two parts, elementary and high.
 The elementary school covered the first eight or nine years; in most sections of the United States eight. The high school covered four years, beginning where the elementary school left off. This may be termed the "8-4" plan.

The New Form of Organization

The new organization is built around what we term the 6-3-3 plan. More recently we have come to an appreciation of the purpose of an elementary school.
 It may be summed up as follows: first,
 to give opportunity for the child to become accustomed to association with his fellows, to discover in such association his rights and privileges, also his limitations.
 We call this socialization of the child.
 Second, to assist him to develop an effective personality. Third, to place within his hands the working tools of the scholar
 by means of which he pursues his educational career. We have more recently discovered that the object of the elemen-

A Suggestive Plan for Financing School Building Construction

Note: On account of the debt limitation set by the Constitution of the State
 there are several cases of Maine towns
 where it is impossible to borrow funds
 or issue bonds to finance required school building extension. The following suggestive plan is one under which interested citizens may finance such necessary improvements without actually rendering the town liable beyond the amount of its borrowing capacity. Under such a plan no liability or agreement between the holding corporation and the town must be made which will require payments by the town beyond those which may be provided for from year to year.

Any town through its officers or citizens, seeking to carry on any plan of this kind, should seek competent legal advice before undertaking it.

Procedure

1. Formation of a corporation or a stock company by parties interested (preferably taxpayers of the town), with charter authorizing corporation to receive funds, purchase, hold and transfer real estate and construct and maintain building.

2. Corporation, through officers, to determine amount required to finance
 school extensions and to secure pledges
 for the purchase of stock to the amount necessary.

3. Corporation, through officers, to come to understanding with citizens that support will be given for action by town to authorize officers to sell site for building, or site and building, to corporation,
 purchase price to be paid by corporation
 in form of stock of corporation.

(Note: Number 3 is necessary in case town owns a satisfactory school site or in case an addition is to be made to a building already in use.)

4. With pledges made and action by town assured, corporation, through its officers, to enter into agreement with town by action taken in town meeting to cover following: (A.) Corporation to construct school building satisfactory
 in plan and location to school committee.

(B.) Town to authorize sale of any land or building involved to corporation
 and to authorize acceptance of corporation stock in purchase price.

(C.) Town to authorize school committee to authorize school committee to build building when constructed by corporation for one year following date of its availability at amount of yearly rental which shall be reasonable and with agreement regarding upkeep as specified by corporation. (D.) Town to accept of fer of corporation that town shall have the first option on purchase of any stock
 of corporation as such stock may be required by officers, corporation in manner described below.

5. Corporation to sell stock to its members and those pledged to membership and issue stock to town to amount of purchase price of land and buildings.

6. Corporation with funds received from sale of stock to build and equip a school building or an addition.

7. Corporation to retire full ownership and control of such building and to fix rental terms and retire and transfer stock
 as conditions require.

8. Corporation, annually, to offer to town privilege of rental of building for school purposes at reasonable rental price (an amount sufficient to pay interest on stock and for upkeep of building). Town to accept such an offer.

9. Plan for financing corporation.

(1.) Stock sold to citizens to amount required for construction and equipment.

(2.) Stock transferred to town in exchange for deed of land or land and building.

(3.) Stock sold to citizens under agreement that such amount as officers of the corporation might determine should be retired annually from stockholders (in and convenient and legal manner) and under agreement that town should have first option on purchase of stock so retired. (4.) Interest charges met through rentals paid by town. (5.) Interest payable on all stock held. Town could use its receipts from interest toward purchase of stock.
 (6.) When town had bought all stock the affairs of the corporation may be closed through the action of the stockholders (the town) and the town may hold full ownership of the property.
